GOVERNOR SEYMOUR.

His Excellency Governor Seymour arrived on Wedresday at the capital of that colony over whose government he has been called upon to preside. An enthusiastic population have bailed him as the first resident Governor of British Columbia. In New Westmin ster His Excellency will meet a community who have been bitterly opposed to the ad ministration of the past-who have labored individually and collectively for years, to bring about that change which the advent of a new and separate governor partially inaugurates. He will be surrounded by men who, vith all their local divisions and quarrelsthe inseparable adjuncts of small communities-have been indissolubly united against what they have been accustomed to look upon as the common enemy-the Governs ment. The great fault of the past has been undoubtedly a disregard of public opinion No graver error could be committed by the principal functionary of any free country. The people may be wrong, as they sometime are; they may be inconsiderate as is per-haps too often the case; but they are, under any circumstances, the sources from which the revenue is derived, and the instruments by which the future greatness of the country is to be built. Their opinion, as a matter of courtesy, should be listene. to with respect—their voice as n matter of right should have every attention and weight. It is easy enough at any time to obtain a Governor; -" a breath can make him as a breath has made "-but the people are beyond the creative faculty of kings or dukes; they are equal to the monarch in all the attributes of man : and it is simply the ignorance of profanity tha leads individuals in authority to ignore that position conferred upon them by a mightier

Potentate than the highest amongst ou

" lordly fellow-worms." Governors and senseless subordinates to treat Her Majesty's subjects as very good but as a very inferior article from which to take advice. The natural consequence has followed-bloodshed, and in some cases rebellion. In every instance, however, the reople have been the victors-as they must always be when opposed to arrogance without ability, and authority without respect. The inhabitants of New Westminster, as well as of other towns in British Columbia, have been stigmatized as mal contents, agitators. GROCERIES & PROVISIONS chronic grumblers. They have been almost accused of drawing their daily pabulum from political agiation, and their ideas of Candles. Sardines, Dried Apples, Pickles, Christianity from the public meeting. We. Green Tea, Split Peas, Sal Soda, Sago, however, see nothing new, nothing strange, nothing contrary to the natural order of things in the continued state of political effer.

Crushed Sugar, Etc. Etc. vescence of the people of New Westminster and the neighboring Colony generally. They have simply repeated the historical acts of the inhabitants of every other British Colony | 3 sup. double barreled Shot Guns, in its infancy. They have been laboring 12 sup. Accordeons, under serious political evils, which they have Knife Boards and Polish, striven by agitation to overthrow. The per-sistency of their efforts has at length succeeded, and the inhabitants now enter upon a career, relieved of that dead-weight which clung around them in the past, with a throt- Chenille Ties, Note Paper, tling pressure. Governor Seymour, like Governor Kennedy, 4 post Iron Bedstead (Gilt), Etc. has come to the wise determination to leave the law-making part of the Government entirely to the law-making branch.

The Legislative Council of British Columbia cannot, of course, be called a representative body; but such as it is, its decisions will be in no wise interfered with by His Excellency so long as they appear to him to be in accordance with the wishes of the people. is the only prudent course, as we have previously pointed out, for an English Governor to pursue. The people as a general rule will know what is best for their own interests; and what is best for them is best for the Goor and best for Her Majesty. In the neighboring cofony a large revenue is raised -larger than in any other British colony in proportion to the population-and we have no doubt His Excellency will second the wishes of the inhabitants to have a greater control of the colonial receipts than at present. He will see that, however smell in number the people may be, they are at all events better capable of understanding the wants and requirements of the country than any number of magistrates, and that if they cannot boast of much classic erudition they have, at least the more valuable qualification of "colonial experience." During the present year, every effort of the inhabitants will be put forward to obtain from the Imperial authorities the full measure of representative Government. His Excellency we are convinced, will not stand in the way of this natural and proper desire on the part of the people. No greater impetus, we feel certain, could be given to the energy of the population than the control of their own af- LIQUORS! fairs. The modicum of representation which the inhabitants have enjoyed has been turned to the best advantage-whether we look at the praiseworthy labors of the Municipal Council, or the more recent actions of the Legislative body. That they have the capacity to manage their own affairs is we think abundantly proved by these labors -that they have a right to do so, may, perhaps, be the more readily conceded from their contributing over one hundred thousand pounds a year to carry on the government of the country. Governor Seymour has the opthroughout the length and breadth of British Columbia, and we feel assured he will not allow this occasion to slip away of assisting PRECIOUS STONES .- An old French Canadian brought into the city on Wednesday evening a piece of granitic rock thickly studded with small garnets, about the size of large pens, and of the usual crystalline form. The rock was taken by the discoverer from a ridge on the Cowichan trail, about 35 miles from this city. The locality has been known to him for some three years, and some of the garnets have been sent to France for examination some time ago, but no answer has been received. The finder states that there is a whole mountain of similar rock to the specimen brought in, which is as full of the specimen trees that the specimen trees the sent trees crystals as it can possibly be. This state-ment is not at all incredible, as similar ment is not at all interesting as similar mountains are known in Hungary, from which the chief supply of the stone for commercial purposes is drawn. To render a deposit of garnets at all valuable, however, they must be of a brilliant color, sufficiently they must be of a brilliant color, sufficiently acfit to be perforated without breaking, and last but not lesst, they must be within a reasonable distance of facilities for manu facturing them fit for use. It is to be hoped that the quality of the deposit may be thoroughly tested, and its value as a portion of our resources ascertained.

It would be a much wiser and more beneficial system to pay workmen more liberally, and endeavor to economize a little from the fat contracts by which our roads have bitter. which our roads have hitherto been con-structed. By the bye, what has become of the Committee on Public Roads?

A SPRING DELICACY .- Our harbor is becoming the resort of numbers of spring salmon, which are now in excellent condition, and consequently in great demand. Yesterday morning we witnessed an I alian fisher-man capture a fine fellow weighing upwards man capture a fine fellow weighing upwards of 20 lbs., while a magnificent fish nearly twice lie size of the one taken, throw himself over the side of the not and escaped. Salmon is now selling in the fish market at a bit a pound. The same fisherman also took a large cuttle fish or "squid" weighing upwards of 30 lbs.—rather an unpleasant customer for bathers in the Arm to come in content with contact with.

A GRIEVANCE.—Our attention has been called to the fact that the chain-gang, in their daily marches to and from the scene of their labors, are permitted by the Superintendent of convicts to proceed along the tendent of convicts to proceed along the sidewalks, to the frequent annoyance and discomfort of passengers. Ladies are sometimes obliged to take refuge in adjoining stores or even to step into the street, to avoid coming into unpleasant contact with these errant members of society. We are sure the nuisance needs only to be brought to the notice of the magistrate to ensure a prompt correction.

Horse Killen .- On Wednesday night, a valuable horse, belonging to Dr. Tuzo, lost its life in a rather singular manner. The animal, saddled and bridled, had been turned into a lane adjoining the house, which is enclosed by a picket fence, and in attempting to leap from the enclosure was impaled on the pickets, one of the sharp spikes penetrating its heart. The horse died immediately, even before the saddle could be removed from its

From Burrard's Inlex.—The schooner General Harney arrived on Wednesday night, from Mr. Smith's Mills, with 60,000 ft. lumber, consigned to Messrs. Duncan & George.

A piece of the frontal scalp was drawn down to make a new nose," an artificial jaw was formed, and a glass eye put in, and the whole face so changed that though the man completely recovered, his ace was a new one to all his friends. It is a case in fact, in which the identity of Mr Bergen—that is the man's name—is to all his friends simply a question of historical evidence.

"SAM. PRICE'S" WHARF .- This property, which has earned a local if not national celebrity, through the exertions of the Crown Lands Committee, has been leased to Messrs. Pickett & Company, who will take possession immediately. The Merchant's Line of vessels from San Francisco, will hereafter discharge at this wharf.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE .- We would call attention to the sale at noon to-day by Messrs. Duncan & George of valuable property in Victoria and Esquimalt, also of suburban and farming land.

His Honor, through an interpreter, addressed Clephane, telling him he had broken the laws, to which he was amenable the same as white people, and it was no excuse whatever to say he was drunk. His Honor said he would sentence him to 6 months' imprisonment with hard labor.

The Queen vs. Kok-yah, another Indian—Who had pleaded guilty to a charge of assault, also came up for sentence. His Honor said this was a worse case than the preceding one, he would therefore sentence the prisoner to 12 months' imprisonment with hard labor.

The Queen vs. James Murray—Charged with stealing a purse from a fellow-lodger, Prisoner having pleaded guilty, His Honor sentenced him to 12 months' imprisonment with hard labor. Ilis Honor, through an interpreter, ad-

Prisoner asked leave to make a statement: he said he had engaged Mr. Wight to defend him, and had sent to California for a draft of him, and had sent to California for a draft of $250 to carry on the defence. Wight had engaged to procure counsel for him, and had called at the gaol on Saturday night last and told him that his case was all arranged. Next morning, he, prisoner, learnt that Wight had left the country.

His Honor told the prisoner, who is a man of very good address and spoke very fluently, that he had nothing to do with Wight; he had passed sentence on the prisoner in accordance with his own confession.

Bad Policy.—We are informed that the workmen employed by the Government on the Goldstream road, have been positively refused any advance in the rate of wages paid them. This is simply a "penny wise and pound foolish" policy; the laborer is surely worthy of his hire, and we need never hope to attract honest industrious labor to our largest the policy in the laborer is surely worthy of his hire, and we need never hope to attract honest industrious labor to our largest the policy in the labor to for sale, last Saturday week.

EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST—SIR:—It must be still fresh in your recollection—that about two years ago the Rt. Rev. Bishop Demers applied to the Holse of Assembly for some pecuniary aid towards the erection of a school house at Cowichan, for a number of Indian boys whe were very desirous of being taught, and who, to judge by the little beginning they had siready made, had proved very apt to learn. He knew well enough the assistance songht for would be refused, as it certainly was, on the ground that the school certainly was, on the ground that the school would be "sectarian," as the principles adopted in this colony would have it.

The Bishop was left to manage and keep up the school as best he could. As to the Indian girls, they were yet neglected; but owing to the reinforcement that came to the Sitters of St. Ann loat according to the reinforcement that came to Sisters of St. Ann last summer he has been able to accomplish the so long-desired object of opening a school for them, the good and zealous Sisters only waiting for the house to be built to undertake the hard task of edu-We trust that private enterprise may be found to take up the ground so shamefully alighted by those to whom the public has delegated the duty.

AN ARTIFICIAL FACE.—The N. Y. Tribune gives a very curious story of a man for whom the hospital surgeons provided an artificial face on the disappearance of his own. He had been so thoroughly salivated by mercury that a sort of cancerous formation made its appearance in his threat, which afterwards ate away the upper jaw, lip, and eye, and a large part of the nose. Dr. Buck, one of the oldest surgeons in the New York Hospital, set to work to remedy the evil. "Incisions were made in one cheek and a piece of flesh drawn over, from which a lip was formed. A piece of the frontal scalp was drawn over, from which a lip was formed. A piece of the frontal scalp was drawn over, from which a lip was formed. A piece of the frontal scalp was drawn over, from which a lip was formed, and a glass eye put in, and the whole face so changed that though the man completely "secovered, his ace was a new one to all his friends. It is accessed the firm which the world was a new nose," and affect of the man completely "secovered, his accessed to the firm and the whole face so changed that though the man completely "secovered, his accessed to firm and the whole face so changed that though the man completely "secovered, his accessed to the firm and the whole face so changed that though the man completely "secovered, his accessed to the firm and the world was a firm and the world was a firm and the world was a firm and the completely received the second was a new one to all his friends. It is a constant the firm and the constant of the firm and the firm of the settlers in the valley, to whom the prospect of a good school in the firm date the children of the settlers in the valley, to whom the prospect of a good school in the firm date appeared so great a boon that the children of the settlers in the valley, to whom the prospect of the sulley, to whom the prospect of the children of the settlers i

Now, sir, I should like to know what religious instruction is given in that school; and I ask what has become of the principle of "non-sec-tarianism," or has it been adopted only to tarianism," or has it been adopted only to oppose the Catholies, who form no small portion of this community? Where is the justice in denying assistance to one denomination and affording it to another? Is this what the representatives of the people have pledged themselves to? I leave it to an impartial public to answer these questions. But if I know the bishop well, he will carry out his object, regardless of all opposition, as it has originated from no other or foreign cause, but from a pure motive of doing an actual and real good; and in a few months the Sisters will be permantly established at Cowichan. ichan.

JUSTICE AND FAIRPLAY.
Victoria, April 20th, 1864. THE CONCERT

EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST,-SIR :--If la dies who volunteer their services are to be criticised by reporters who seem to have but little knowledge of either music or singing. I am afraid that we shall lose their valuable services.

The Evening Express volunteers his advice to Mrs. Willis as to the improvements requisite in any future attempt. It is my humble opinion any water of others theroughly capable of judding, that the expression and feeling which he accuses her of wanting, was the great charm of her song, together with the distinctues of each word uttered. I am told she was laboring under great disadvantages from recent illness and a severe cold, consequently her voice was not suf ficiently powerful. A LOVER OF JUSTICE.

NEW COLONIZATION SCHEME IN NEW ZEALAND.

By the last advices from New Zealand, we learn that the land belonging to the insurgent natives is to be confiscated, and that eight million acres are already considered to have been forfeited. The Government pro-poses to turn this land to advantage at once by establishing upon it 20.000 military set-tlers. Every native, moreover, who comes in of his own accord, and loyally submits to the of his own accord, and loyally submits to the Queen's authority, is to have a grant of 100 acres of good land. The military settlers will each receive 50 acres of good land and an allotment of one acre in the nearest Government township. The rest of the land will be sold to defray the cost of the war. By these means it is hoped that the country will be rapidly pacified and settled; that the political power of the Maories will be entirely destroyed, and that the Maories themselves will become gradually absorbed into the political system of the colony. Agents of good position are to be appointed to promote the scheme in England.

THE CAPE OF GOOD HOPE,

SEIZURE OF A CONFEDERATE CRUISER BY THE GOVERNOR.

The East India and London Shipping Company's Steamship Calcutta, Capt. S. H. Wright, has arrived at Spithead, from Calcutta and the Caps of Good Hope, after a rapid passage of sixty-eight days at sea, and brings intelligence of the seizure of the Confederate cruiser Tuscaloosa, in Simon's Bay, by her Majesty's ship Narcissus, under orders from the Governor, as being an uncondemned prize.

ment that she will be detained until she can be handed over to them. The point upon which the authorities at home differ in opinion from Mr. Dennison, who was acting Attorney General, and as such legal adviser to the Government, when the Tuscaloosa formerly visited the Cape, is as to the competency of Captain Semmes to condemn prizes without taking them to a regularly constituted prize court. Such court Capt. Semmes claims to constitute on board the Alabams, by virtue of authority from his Government; and the question at issue is, whether that submit to, and other Governments to acknowledge and accept. In our view the very idea of a court implies that the persons whose property is to be disposed of shall have the right of being present and the power of advocating their cause. With these conditions it cannot be said that the court held by Capt. Semmes on board the Alabama complies.—And his court, certainly, is not such a court as the other Powers of the world have established. It may be said that the circumstant of the Confederate States are exceptional, and that the coast being blockaded by a superior naval Power, it would be impossible for Capt. Semmes to send his prizes for condemnation to a court of his own country. But that, we take it, it, sa na excident all the unpleasant consequences of which the Confederates must submit to; and if Captain Semmes' court be not such a court as independent Powers are heaved. not such a court as independent Powers are bound to acknowledge and respect, the con-demnation was clearly illegal. Upon tha point the whole case turns. If the condempoint the whole case turns. If the condeni-nation was illegal, the conversion of the Con-rad into an armed cruiser and her commis-sion as such were equally so, and she cannot claim indemnity from selzure as a manu-si-war. If, on the other hand, it be held that nation was sufficient, then is the Tuscalosa entitled to all the privileges of a ship of war, one of which is freedom from ar-rest."

CAPT. LOWE'S PROTEST.

The commander of the Confederate cruiser Tuscaloosa forwarded the following protest to Sir Philip Wodehouse, K. C. B., governor ot that colony :-"Confederate States' Ship Tuscaloosa,

We had snow storms, all the way from Sleswig. incessant snow storms ever since we reached Sonderborg. Out in the country the snow lies on the roads in heavy diffits; but the men toil through it, day and night; they stand on it. lie on it, as if it were their own element. They are all cheeful, good humored, fond of song, and march to the tune of their favorite air, "Den tappre Land soldat." Their clothing is substantially good, and admirably suited to the climate. Their warm overcoats come up to their very ears, and fall down to their ankles. The infantry are armed with excellent rifles, mostly of Belgian manufacture. Denmark has no rifle regiments, nothing to correspond with the Bersaglieri of Italy or the Zouaves of France. They tell me all their foot soldiers are good shots with their rifles; still they may not be a fit match for the Styrian and Tyrolean harpshooters, with whom they have to consul, whose swiftness of motion the Danes have had occasion to admire, and whoe dead shots have already had such terrible effect among their officers. The Danish oavalry is not numerous; the greater part of it matched by land from Sleswig to Jutland. Here we have two regiments of dragoous and a few tussars. "Confederate States' Ship Tuscaloosa, simon's Bay, Cape of Good Hops, Dec 28, 1863.

Sir—As officer in command of the Confederate States' steamer Alabama, I have to record my protest against the extraordinary measures which have been attempted by the British authorities of this colony. In August last the Tuscaloosa arrived in Simon's Bay; she was not only recognized in the character which she lawfully claimed, and still claims to be, vis., a commissioned ship of war, belonging to a belligarent Power, but was allowed to remain in the harbor feating the days, taking in supplies and effecting repairs with the full knowledge and sanctian of the authorities. No intrination was given that she was regarded merely in the light of an ordinary prize, or that sho was considered as a friendly Power, where she had been received as a man-of-war, and consequently liable to seizurs. Misled by the conduct of her Majesty's Government, I returned to Simon's Bay on the 26th instant in very urgent need of repairs and supplies. To my surprise I find the Taccalosa is now no longer considered as a man-of-war, and whe has, by your orders, as I learn, been seized for the purpose of the learn of the proprise of the cannel of the proprise of the proprise of the cannel of the proprise of

To my surprise I find the Tuscalosa is soon no longer considered as a man-of-war, and she has, by your orders, as I learn, been seized for the purpose of being handed over to the person who slaims her on the behalf of her late owners. The character of the vessel, viz., that of lawfully commissioned ahip of war of the Confederate States of America, has not been altered since her first arrival in Simon's Bay; and she having been once fully recognized by the British authorities to command in this colony, and no notice or warning of change of opinion or of friendly feeling having been communicated by public notification or otherwise, I was entitled to expect to be again permitted to enter Simon's Bay without molestation. In perfect good faith I returned to Simon's Bay for more necessaries, and in all honor and good faith in return I should, on change of opinion or of policy on the part of the British authorities, have been desired to leave the port again; but, by the course of proceedings taken, I have been supposing the view now adopted by your Excellency's Government to be correct—firstly misled, and then entrapped. My position and the character of my ship will most in all weather, as thoroughly at home in a show and ice as in rain and mud. They are in our worthy descendants of these Cimbrians who astonished the Romans of Marius so many centuries since by sporting half naked in the shed so slide down the icy slopes of the wont to indulge in at their Northern home. Those whom the clouds have drenched in the sililation of the part of the British authorities, have been desired to leave the port again; but, by the course of proceedings taken, I have been supposing the view now adopted by your Excellency's Government to be correct—firstly misled, and then entrapped. My position and the character of my ship will most in the soon and the character of my ship will most in all weather, as thoroughly at home in a wonton and the soon, and in all weather, as th for padestrian exercise, is apt to become a reservoir in very heavy wet. Soaked or nipped, or numbed as they may be, however, tion and the character of my ship will most certainly be vindicated by my Government. I am powerless to resist the affront offered to the Confederate States of America by your Excellency's conduct and proceedings. I demand, however, the release of my ship, and if this demand be not properly complied with. I hereby formerly protest against her seizure, especially under the peculiar circumstances of the case, I have, &c.
